GERMAN TASTE IN ART AND SCIENCE DECAYING

BY HIRAM K. MODERWELL.
(Special Correspondence of The Star and Chicago Daily News.)

BERLIN, Germany, May 15.—The German life is having the effect on art, science and research, and on the public taste and temper. Here, again, the great conditioning fact is that the middle class, the patron of the fine arts and the conservator of esthetic and intellectual standards, has gone broke. It cannot buy books or pictures, hence cannot say what kind of books and pictures should be produced. It cannot go to the theater. It cannot, without the greatest difficulty, send its children to the universities.

Deterioration is evident, but it has not progressed equally far in all departments of effort. The luxurious German art magazines, matchless the world over in their technical production and sold for a trifle, are still published, though their color reproduction is inferior to that of pre-war days. The theaters of Germany, taking them at their average, have been in the past one of the marvels of the modern world. For the most part they are still at a high standard of taste and execution. In two months stay in Munich this spring one could have seen or heard eight Shakespeare plays, all of Wagner's operas except "Parsifal," and a host of other goodly assortment of the German classics, both dramatic and operatic, including the dramatic skills of the medieval shoemaker, Hans Sachs; works by Schiller, Strindberg, Bernard Shaw, Claudel, Moliere, Hauptmann, Tolstoy, Tchekhov and Rabindranath Tagore, and last, but not least, "Potash and Perlmutter."

High Standards of Acting. The theaters and opera houses work under the greatest difficulties. The pay of most of the artists would not tempt an American truck driver to go to work. The more famous are leaving to accept better engagements abroad. But the average standard is extraordinarily high. The performances of the best of the artists are brought off with vivacity and intelligence. The singing at the national opera house is, taking an average of the principals, of a high standard of performance.

Thus, though the audience has changed for the worse, the artists at the Munich theaters have been carrying on according to their ideals. But Munich has been generally successful. Most of the provisional cities already show the change in the quality of their repertoires and performances. And the theater in Berlin where the newly rich are supreme, has completely succumbed. For most theaters the fine repertoire system has been abandoned, and the stage is given over to long runs of dirty farces and tasteless operettas. The writing of music, though it had already fallen upon evil days before the war, is still vigorous, though the most uncompromising composers are literally starving for their ideals. Pictures are still painted in great quantity, and the taste has not noticeably declined, although the younger artists are tossed about among the most extreme theories.

Current Popular Literature Debased.

The publication of books is a prosperous trade, but only in certain RAZORBACK HOG HELD CANDIDATE FO MUSEUM

Florida Native Porkers Becoming Extinct, Says U. S. Department of Agriculture.

GAINESVILLE, Fla., July 8.—"Somebody ought to have permitted to roam the razorback mounted before they become extinct. They're hard to find now."

Thus does no less an authority than the bureau of markets and crop estimates of the United States Department of Agriculture here officially confirm the suspicion that the porker around which so many yarns have been spun soon will be a candidate for the museum.

The Florida farmer is responsible for the passing of a pack of bones and bristles chock full of mischief. The razorback, or native hog, usually could work his body into any place his nose could enter. He was reared on a farm, but he was permitted to roam the woods until he became half wild and only a photograph could portray the damage he could do once he wormed his way into the cultivated ground. As an article of food he was worth little.

Florida farmers for several years have been stocking their places with pure-bred swine and now have reached the stage where discussion of a pig's pedigree is regarded as of extreme importance. Co-operative sales of fine pigs, boys' and girls' pig clubs organized and operated under the supervision of county agricultural agents, and numerous sectional organizations of hog breeders sounded the death knell of the razorback.

There is every indication that the razorback soon will be extinct. Floridians have said his backbone formed an edge sharp enough to cut a fence rail and many tourists believed the old yarn that the hundreds of thousands of pine trees on turpentine farms in the state, with the bark stripped off on two sides to a height of several feet, were damaged by the razorbacks sharpening themselves preparatory to cutting another fence. Snakes and alligators are rarely seen outside of zoos and now the razorback is passing.

In ancient days the addition of a cross to the signature did not at all ways indicate that the signer could not write, but was added as an attestation of good faith.

LABOR-SOCIALIST UNION EXTENDED

Italian Bloc Expects to Force Government to Check Fascisti.

BY EDGAR ANZEL MOWBRER.
By Cable to The Star and Chicago Daily News. Copyright, 1922.

ROME, Italy, July 8.—The Italian Confederation of Labor, representing 1,250,000 laborers, has decided at the annual congress in Genoa to continue its alliance with the Italian socialist party and to urge the socialists to permit their parliamentary group to vote for a government which promises to limit the action of the fascisti and to prevent the present terrorism exercised against the socialists in many parts of Italy.

Hitherto the socialist party has always been against the cabinet and its 125 deputies have constituted the nucleus of the permanent parliamentary opposition. But the apparent complicity of the government with the fascisti hands that recently obtained the transfer from Bologna of Prefect Mori and have now occupied by violent means the city halls in Cremona, Rimini and Adria after driving out the regularly elected socialist administrations, together with the general complacency with which government officials observe fascisti violence, has led the workers to believe that their interests can best be protected if the socialist deputies give their votes to a friendly cabinet.

If the confederation's vote is accepted favorably by the socialist party the coming of a government of the left in the Italian chamber may be expected.

Hot Summer Sun Trying On the Complexion

How to Protect Your Skin and Bring Roses to Your Cheeks

A Free Outmeal Prescription Does Its Work Overnight. You Can Prepare It At Home.

New York.—Exposure to sun, dust, and wind has a very bad effect upon the skin and complexion. There is a way to overcome this. "It is my own discovery and it takes just one night to get such marvelous results," says Mae Edna Wilder when her friends ask her about her wonderful complexion and the improved appearance of her hands and arms. "You can do the same thing if you follow my advice," she says. "I feel it my duty to tell every girl and woman what this wonderful prescription did for me."

"Just think of it, all this change in a single night. I never tire of telling others just what brought about such remarkable results. Here is the identical prescription that removed every defect from my face, neck, hands and arms. Until you try it you can form no idea of the marvelous change it will make in just one application. The prescription, which you can prepare at your own home, is as follows:

"Go to any grocery store and get 10 cents' worth of ordinary oatmeal and from any toilet counter a bottle of dermowill. Follow the directions for using oatmeal as given in every package of dermowill. If it is more convenient, you can use Dermowill-Oatmeal Soap instead of oatmeal.

"The first application of dermowill will astonish you. It makes the skin appear transparent, smooth and velvety, giving any one a youthful appearance.

"I especially recommend this method for a dark, sallow skin, shiny nose, redness, wrinkles, and, in fact, every blemish the face, hands and arms are heir to."
